a little about me

- Poppy is a calm, gentle, affectionate and cuddly little girl.
- She is looking for the quiet, calm retirement life as we don't like changes in our routine.
- She adores people and wants to be around them. She is an expert leaner to get pats and cuddles and is a bit of a hugger as well (we are working on not jumping up to hug).
- She is a beautiful loose lead walker but can pull occasionally when she wants to be in front of the group. She loves playing with other dogs, but can be rude with other breeds.
- She doesn't like confinement and can get anxious about it, so crate training is not recommended. She would prefer a small to large backyard but, a large apartment would be fine as well.
- Is good with other dogs and breeds. However, is still learning little dogs and how to play off lead with them (she forgets her size). She loves to grapple with Billy (her best friend).
- She does need a medium-large tolerant doggy companion to cope with full time working hours and to teach her the world. Would be okay alone for short periods but prefers a friend.
- Has had a front toe amputated due to a grass seed wound that didn't respond to treatment.
- Children 8+ as loud noises and changes can cause anxiety.
- Is untested with pocket pets and cats.
